Unindicted Co-Conspirators in 1/6 Cases Raise Disturbing Questions of Federal Foreknowledge

June 14, 2021 (3d ago)

Of all the questions asked, words spoken, and ink spilled on the so-called "Capitol Siege" of January 6, 2021, none hold the key to the entire event quite like what Sen. Amy Klobuchar asked of Christopher Wray.

The Democrat from Minnesota asked the Trump-appointed FBI Director: Did the federal government infiltrate any of the so-called "militia" organizations claimed to be responsible for planning and executing the Capitol Siege?

The full segment is available on YouTube.

Christopher Wray is able to uncomfortably weasel his way out of answering the question directly, partially because Klobuchar does him the courtesy of not asking him the question directly. Klobuchar instead asks the FBI director if he wishes he had infiltrated the militia organizations allegedly involved in 1/6 — assuming from the outset that there was in fact no infiltration, thereby providing the FBI director an easy way to avoid addressing the question one way or another.

Revolver News is willing to address the matter directly in the following three questions:

- In the year leading up to 1/6 and during 1/6 itself, to what extent were the three primary militia groups (the Oath Keepers, the Proud Boys, and the Three Percenters) that the FBI, DOJ, Pentagon and network news have labeled most responsible for planning and executing a Capitol attack on 1/6 infiltrated by agencies of the federal government, or informants of said agencies?
- Exactly how many federal undercover agents or confidential informants were present at the Capitol or in the Capitol during the infamous "siege" and what roles did they play (merely passive informants or active instigators)?
- Finally, of all of the unindicted co-conspirators referenced in the charging documents of those indicted for crimes on 1/6, how many worked as a confidential informant or as an undercover operative for the federal government (FBI, Army Counterintelligence, etc.)?

From now on, all discussion of 1/6 must give way to a laser-like focus on the questions above, with an unwavering persistence at obtaining the answers.

If the narrative about 1/6 does not conform to the questions above, the American people will never learn the most important truth about what 1/6 is, and what kind of country they're really living in.

If it turns out the federal government did in fact have undercover agents or confidential informants embedded within the so-called militia groups indicted for conspiring to obstruct the Senate certification on 1/6, the implications would be nothing short of seismic. Especially if such agents or informants enjoyed extremely senior-level positions within such groups.

One of the key consensus points among the FBI-DOJ and the regime media is the idea that, while 1/6 is primarily the fault of Trump-supporting QAnon-infused "domestic terrorists," it is secondarily the fault of so-called "intelligence failures."

Klobuchar's own question at the March 2, 2021 FBI hearing (above) reinforces this "intelligence failure" narrative, but she is not alone. A five-month "bipartisan" Senate investigation recently arrived at the very same "intelligence failure" narrative to explain the breach of the Capitol and associated events on 1/6:

> A bipartisan Senate investigation of the deadly Jan. 6 insurrection found security and intelligence failures at every level of government that led to the breach of the Capitol by a pro-Trump mob as lawmakers in a joint session were certifying the 2020 election.
> The 95-page report, a product of a roughly five-month, joint probe by the Senate Homeland Security and Rules Committees, found significant breakdowns ranging "from federal intelligence agencies failing to warn of a potential for violence to a lack of planning and preparation by (U.S. Capitol Police) and law enforcement leadership." There was no overall operational or staffing plan for that fateful day, a total failure of leadership, according to the committees. [ABC News]

If it turns out that the federal government (FBI, Army Counterintelligence, or a similar agency) had undercover agents or confidential informants embedded in any of the groups involved in 1/6, the "federal intelligence agencies failing to warn of a potential for violence" looks less like an innocent mistake and more like something sinister.

Indeed, if the federal government knew of a potential for violence in or around the Capitol on 1/6 and failed to call for heightened security, the agencies responsible may in fact be legally liable for the damages incurred during that day.

It is unsettling to entertain the possibility that the federal government knew of a potential for violence on 1/6 and did nothing to stop it. It presents the question: why would agencies, or certain elements within, sit back and let something like this happen on purpose?

A still more disturbing possibility arises from a careful study of the unindicted co-conspirators listed throughout the various charging documents of individuals facing the most serious charges related to 1/6.

We at Revolver News have noticed a pattern from our now months-long investigation into 1/6 — and in particular from our meticulous study of the charging documents related to those indicted. In many cases the unindicted co-conspirators appear to be much more aggressive and egregious participants in the very so-called "conspiracy" serving as the basis for charging those indicted.
The question immediately arises as to why this is the case, and forces us to consider whether certain individuals are being protected from indictment because they were involved in 1/6 as undercover operatives or confidential informants for a federal agency.

Here it is useful to draw a distinction between two discrete categories of participants in the so-called Capitol Siege.

The first category is the group of mostly harmless tourists who walked through already opened doors and already-removed barricades, and at most were guilty of minor trespassing charges and light property offenses. The second group consists of those who were violent with police officers, broke down barricades, smashed windows, belonged to a "militia" group engaged in military-style planning prior to the event, discussed transporting heavy weaponry, and so forth.
Up until now, the overwhelming (perhaps exclusive) share of counter-establishment reporting on 1/6 has focused on absolving the first group. And this is a valuable thing. The notion that these harmless "MAGA moms" wandering around the Capitol were domestic terrorists engaged in an insurrection is absurd. That many of these people are being held in prison, without bail, under harsh conditions, amounts to an unacceptable and outrageous abuse of basic human rights.
However, the possibility that the federal government had undercover operatives or informants involved in the events of 1/6, from its planning to its execution, compels us to turn our attention to the second category of participants.

We are especially interested in the unindicted co-conspirators who belonged to any of the big three "militia groups" — the Oath Keepers, the Proud Boys, and the Three Percenters. Indeed, it is these militia groups whose behavior, statements and planning leading up to and during 1/6 most closely align with the "violent insurrectionist" caricature we hear about in the media, and which the government claims to be going after in its aggressive prosecutions.
If it turns out that an extraordinary percentage of the members of these groups involved in planning and executing the Capitol Siege were federal informants or undercover operatives, the implications would be nothing short of staggering. This would be far worse than the already bad situation of the government knowing about the possibility of violence and doing nothing. Instead, this would imply that elements of the federal government were active instigators in the most egregious and spectacular aspects of 1/6, amounting to a monumental entrapment scheme used as a pretext to imprison otherwise harmless protestors at the Capitol — and in a much larger sense used to frame the entire MAGA movement as potential domestic terrorists.
This is what's at stake in getting to the bottom of 1/6.

And so we proceed, unafraid, to investigate the question on which everything else pertaining to 1/6 hinges — did the government have informants or undercover agents in any or all of the "big three" militia groups leading up to or on 1/6? How many of the key unindicted co-conspirators in DOJ prosecutions are unindicted because they are undercover operatives or confidential informants?

In short, what did the federal government know in advance about 1/6, when did they know it — and how far did any undercover operations go?

Something's Rotten in Michigan: The Forgotten Case of the Whitmer Kidnapping Plot

Of course, we could point to countless examples in America's history of undercover agents and informants being actively involved in various "domestic terror plots." But for the purposes of the argument we're making here we need only go back a few months prior to 1/6 — to the so-called "Whitmer Kidnapping Plot."
Indeed, what if we told you that scarcely three months before the 1/6 Capitol Siege, the FBI arrested 14 people for planning to kidnap Michigan Governor Gretchen Whitmer and overthrow the State Government — and that the alleged conspiracy to overthrow the State government involved storming of the State Capitol?

And what if we told you that of the 14 individuals who allegedly plotted the "kidnapping" and overthrow of the state government, at least five were undercover agents and federal informants? And as if that's not enough, many of the individuals allegedly involved in this plot appear to belong to the "Three Percenters," one of the very same militia groups now blamed for storming January 6.
And, as the cherry on top, what if we told you that the director of the Detroit FBI Field Office, who oversaw the infiltration operation of the Michigan Plot, was subsequently granted a highly coincidental promotion to the D.C. office, where he is now the lead FBI agent for all 1/6 cases?

As crazy as it sounds, all of this is true. A full account of the Michigan Plot and its parallels to the Capitol Siege runs outside the scope and purposes of this article. Nonetheless, it will be useful to briefly flesh out some of the most salient details alluded to above.

The left-wing blog Jacobin, of all places, provides a good description of the allegation and charges:

> Since last week, the headlines have been lit up by a shocking story out of Michigan: the FBI had foiled a plot hatched by anti-lockdown protesters and right-wing militia members to kidnap and try for "treason" Michigan governor Gretchen Whitmer, who one of the ringleaders called a "tyrant bitch."

> According to a federal affidavit and court testimony, the plot involved surveilling Whitmer's vacation home in Western Michigan and the surrounding area, procuring explosives and tactical gear to fight off police, taking part in armed training exercises, and even possibly blowing up a nearby bridge. The alleged plotters discussed using a fake pizza delivery to kidnap Whitmer, leaving Whitmer on a boat in the middle of Lake Michigan, and even kidnapping Virginia governor Ralph Northam, one of the "tyrants" who, they believed, were abusing their power to order statewide lockdowns in response to the coronavirus pandemic. [Jacobin]

Drawing upon entrapment cases used in the War on Terror, the Jacobin piece expresses concerns that the whole Michigan Plot itself may have been the result of entrapment of vulnerable, cognitively deficient and mentally unstable individuals by FBI informants. The following passage discusses the pathetic state of Adam Fox, the man designated by the government as the "mastermind" of the kidnapping plot:

> According to the FBI's affidavit, the bureau made heavy use of informants and undercover agents in the case.
> At least four took part — specifically, two informants and two undercover agents, on whose evidence gathering the criminal complaint was based on — though it's implied that some unspecific number of additional personnel were involved.
> And, as with earlier, Muslim-targeting cases, the FBI appears to have been integral to the plotters' ability to carry out the scheme. The affidavit notes that an undercover agent told the ringleader it would cost $4,000 to procure explosives. Four of the accused planned to meet with another undercover agent posing as an explosives expert to pay for them and, they were told, to get some excess tactical gear the agent had the day they were arrested. In court, Richard Trask, the agent who authored the affidavit, said he didn't know how much money the defendants had on them when they were put in handcuffs, aside from the $275 held by Adam Fox, pegged by Trask as the ringleader.
> Even the profile of Fox is not unlike those of earlier targets like Shareef and Hester. Fox was reportedly struggling with money and had been on the brink of homelessness after his girlfriend kicked him out of her house, before being taken in by his friend and employer, who let him stay temporarily in the basement of his vacuum store. It was there in that cramped storage space, cluttered with boxes and spare vacuum parts, where Fox was living with his two dogs and meager > possessions, that he at one point held a meeting to allegedly plan out the kidnapping. [Jacobin]

The possibility of an FBI entrapment-type operation is especially disturbing in light of the striking parallels between the Michigan Plot and the so-called Capitol Siege of 1/6.

The Michigan Plot did not start out as a kidnapping. According to the DOJ's own indictment, the plot started as a plan to "storm the Capitol building" in Lansing, Michigan. And the "conspirators" would do so by amping up "at least 200 men" from an upcoming unrelated rally planned at the Michigan Capitol building (a rally that was focused on the Second Amendment, not insurrection) by agitating enough rallygoers to run inside and occupy the building.

Paragraph 10 of the FBI affidavit describes the plot to "storm the state capitol":

> 10. Fox, in coordination with CROFT, met with members of the militia group at various times in June 2020. During one such meeting on June 18, 2020, which was audio recorded by CHS-2, FOX, militia group leadership, including Michigan resident Ty GARBIN, and CHS-2 met at a Second Amendment rally at the State capitol in Lansing, Michigan. In an effort to recruit more members for the operation, FOX told GARBIN and CHS-2 he planned to attack the Capitol and asked them to combine forces.

"CHS-2" refers to a "Confidential Human Source," which means government informant. As mentioned above, the groups involved with this alleged plot were absolutely replete with undercover informants and operatives. Consider the following excerpt, from the same FBI affidavit:

> 4. In the course of its investigation, the FBI relied on information provided by Confidential Human Sources (CHS) and Undercover Employees (UCE) over several months. Not all CHSs and UCEs were present at all times, however, at least one CHS or UCE was usually present during the group meetings. Those CHSs and UCEs consensually recorded the meetings and conversations with the subjects. Some meetings or conversations were recorded by more than one CHS or UCE. Certain CHSs also had access to group or individual texts, online chats, and phone calls. Each CHS was vetted for reliability by the FBI agent handling the source. None of > the CHSs were aware of the other CHSs involved with the groups in order to preserve the independence of their reporting. Although multiple CHSs were used over the course of the investigation, this complaint only relies on audio recordings and information provided by CHS-1, CHS-2, UCE-1 and UCE-2. [FBI Affidavit]

In the above excerpt, the FBI acknowledges the use of both confidential informants and undercover employees over the course of several months leading up to the so-called "thwarted plot." Specifically, the complaint acknowledges two confidential informants and two undercover employees. Subsequent to the DOJ's filing charges, however, another deep undercover informant unexpectedly outed himself (more on that later), bringing the tally of known government operatives up to five.

Here's a clip of one of the informants talking about storming the Michigan State Capitol:

https://youtu.be/nn6Czw6FEgI

No wonder this Michigan plot didn't take the federal authorities by surprise!

FBI infiltrators comprised, at the very least, 26 percent of the plotters.
That is, at least five FBI operatives have been disclosed, against just 14 suspects indicted. A look at the annotated indictment reveals that at every level of the plot, FBI operatives played the most important leadership roles:

-The plot's "explosives expert," who the plotters were accused of planning to buy bombs from, turned out to be an FBI agent.

-The head of transportation for the militia outfit turned out to be an undercover FBI agent.

-The head of security for the militia outfit turned out to be an undercover FBI informant.

-At least two undercover FBI informants were active participants in the initial June 6, 2020 meeting in which the plot to storm Capitol buildings was allegedly hatched — meaning at least three FBI informants infiltrated before the conspiracy even started.

In one of the plot's climactic scenes, in the main van driving up to look at Governor Whitmer's vacation home, three out of the five people in the van — 60 percent of the plot's senior leaders — were federal agents and informants:

> 31. FOX, CROFT, CHS-2, a UCE, and an individual from Wisconsin traveled in the first vehicle. While in the vehicle, CROFT and FOX discussed detonating explosive devices to divert police from the area of the vacation home. They stopped at the M-31 highway bridge on the way, where FOX and the UCE inspected the underside of the bridge for places to seat an explosive charge. FOX took a picture of the bridge's support structure, which he later shared with CHS-2 in their encrypted chat. From there, they drove to a public boat launch across the lake from the vacation home to watch for the other cars in their group. [FBI]

You may be wondering how you get "three out of five" when the DOJ's complaint only acknowledges two undercover FBI operatives: UCE (meaning "Undercover Employee," or full-time agent) and CSH-2.

That is because the FBI went to great lengths to hide their affiliation with the fifth person in the van, describing him only as "an individual from Wisconsin" (again, more on this later).

Let's take stock of what we have so far. We have a group of plotters that is heavily infiltrated by FBI informants and undercover agents, who were allegedly planning to kidnap the Michigan governor and storm the state capitol.

What we also know is that many of the main figures indicted in this plot seem to be associated with a militia group called the "Three Percenters" — one of the very same "big three" militia groups primarily charged with orchestrating 1/6.

Just to take a few examples:

The FBI alleged Adam Fox and Barry Croft were the supposed masterminds of the plot, with Adam Fox described as the Michigan state leader of the Three Percenters and Barry Croft as a national leader of the Three Percenters.

The FBI secured a search warrant to tap national Three Percenters leader Barry Croft's Facebook account in April 2020, two months before the Michigan Plot was even allegedly hatched. For almost the entirety of 2020, every time Barry Croft's Facebook account got banned, the FBI would tap each new alt account he created under a new warrant.

Michigan Plot indicted co-conspirators Brian Higgins and Michael Null were identified as Three Percenters as well.

As was Michael Jung, who was not indicted in relation to the kidnapping plot. Jung allegedly was a member of both the Oath Keepers and second in command of the Wisconsin Branch of the Three Percenters. Jung's 2-acre homestead in Wisconsin is where the DOJ alleges the Michigan "plotters" held firearms training and field exercises under the watchful eye of undercover informants.

And so we see the strange parallels between the so-called Michigan Plot and the so-called 1/6 Capitol Siege. In Michigan you had an alleged plot involving the storming of a state capitol, allegedly involving members of one of the very same key militia groups associated with the 1/6 plot. And we're supposed to believe that despite massive and now publicly confirmed FBI and government infiltration of the Michigan Plot, there was no similar infiltration for 1/6?

Such a position appears still less plausible when we consider a final, suspicious connection between the Michigan Plot and 1/6.

The head of the FBI field office in Detroit, Steven D'Antuono, who oversaw the infiltration (and incitement?) operation into the Michigan plot was quickly and quietly promoted to lead the coveted Washington, DC field office:

> Steven M. D'Antuono, who was named chief of the Detroit FBI office a year ago, has been promoted to head the Washington Field Office, a coveted post in the bureau.
> FBI Director Christopher Wray made the announcement Tuesday, just several days after D'Antuono's agents and state police busted up a plot to abduct Gov. Gretechen Whitmer. His official new title is assistant director in charge. [Deadline Detroit]

If you've been following along so far, you can probably take a guess as to what Steven D'Antuono is up to in his new, coveted perch…

That's right, he's one of the key figures overseeing the investigation into the 1/6 Capitol Siege. What a coincidence!

https://youtu.be/pzTOdORVEnw

Let's recap what we've established. Just months prior to the U.S. Capitol Siege on 1/6, the FBI thwarted a similar plot involving a siege at the Michigan State Capitol, whose plotters belong to one of the three main militia groups associated with 1/6. The FBI was able to thwart this on the basis of an astonishing infiltration rate of said groups involving undercover operatives and informants who had been working in such capacity, just in one tiny Michigan network, for more than seven months. They were so well-infiltrated that they already had three informants embedded in this random Three Percenter network before any plot was even hatched. Furthermore, just days after the plot was foiled, FBI director Christopher Wray quietly promoted the FBI Special Agent in Charge of the Michigan Plot operation to a coveted D.C. field post, where he now oversees the investigation into 1/6.

The Special Agent in Charge, by the way, is who establishes, extends, renews and supervises all FBI undercover operations.

The above parallels between the Michigan Plot and 1/6 do not necessarily mean that the the FBI had undercover informants and operatives who were involved in 1/6. But it sure as heck reinforces our intuition that it's a distinct possibility. And it forces us to ask the question once again — if the government foiled the Michigan Plot, why didn't they step in to stop the so-called siege on 1/6?

It is now imperative for anyone who cares about the truth to demand that Christopher Wray answer the question — to what extent did the FBI or any other government agency infiltrate the key militia groups associated with the U.S. Capitol Siege?

And more pressing still, a question to which we now turn our attention: how many of the unindicted co-conspirators in 1/6 prosecutions are unindicted on account of a prior arrangement with the federal government as an undercover operative or informant?

Shock and Awe: The DOJ's Standard of Prosecution

Revolver News's investigative team noticed from the very beginning a highly unusual and hard-to-explain feature of the conspiracy indictments filed against the Oath Keepers and the Proud Boys.

Revolver took special notice of not only the unusual volume of unindicted co-conspirators, but a still more unusual feature that the statements and actions of the unindicted co-conspirators in many cases seemed far more egregious and aggressive than those of the persons actually indicted.

It is essential here to make an important note of clarification. The purpose of this analysis here is not to aid in the prosecution of any of these unindicted co-conspirators. Rather, our aim is to point out that, given the standards of indictment applied to those actually indicted, it is very strange and indeed suspicious that certain unindicted co-conspirators have managed to avoid indictment. This does not necessarily mean that we approve of the standard of indictment itself. Quite the contrary, the aggressive standard of indictment and prosecution, through an unimaginably broad application of "conspiracy" charges, is immoral, unjust, and absurd.

We hope that one consequence of this seismic exposé will be a serious and prompt reform of the justice system to prevent such aggressive and politically motivated prosecutions on the part of the government.

Broadly speaking, there are three primary reasons to see an unindicted co-conspirator in a criminal complaint: grants of immunity, pragmatic considerations, and evidentiary concerns.

Grants of immunity are traditionally only issued as the result of a plea deal reached between a defendant and prosecutors. Specifically, in exchange for agreeing to testify against "Big Fish" in the conspiracy, a "Little Fish" may remain an unindicted co-conspirator and never be charged.

But there are two reasons this possibility is far less likely in the Oath Keepers and Proud Boys indictments.

First, the timing doesn't add up. The first indictment in the Oath Keepers case, already containing multiple key unindicted co-conspirators, was filed on January 27.

The First Superseding Indictment was filed on February 19. The Second Superseding Indictment was filed on March 12. The Third Superseding Indictment was filed on March 31. But the first plea deal in the Oath Keepers case was not struck until April 16. This means that none of the unindicted co-conspirators in the first three months of filings could have gotten a grant of immunity.

And even then, only one guy so far has copped a plea. Informal plea negotiations among the broader group didn't even start until last week.

There are what appears to be upwards of 20 unindicted co-conspirators in the Oath Keepers indictments, all playing various roles in the conspiracy, who have not been charged for virtually the exact same activities — and in some cases much, much more severe activities — as those named alongside them in indictments.

The timeline and fact pattern suggests therefore that the only unindicted co-conspirator who could be unindicted as the result of a grant of immunity would have to be the single person from the Fourth Superseding Indictment onward, which was filed on May 26.

The other reasons to typically see unindicted co-conspirators — pragmatic concerns and evidentiary concerns — seem far less likely in this case as well.

The DOJ kicked off what has become one the largest and most aggressive prosecutorial dragnets in American history by announcing a campaign of "Shock and Awe." No one gets off the hook. No one gets leniency. And everyone playing a bit part gets maximum time because this is about sending a message.

Listen to then-Acting U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia Michael Sherwin describing this remarkably merciless "Shock and Awe" prosecutorial campaign:

https://youtu.be/FoAqWnD7NTI

Here's a partial transcript:

> I wanted to ensure, and our office wanted to ensure, that there was shock and awe. That we could charge as many people as possible before [January] 20th. And it worked because we saw through media posts that people were > afraid to come back to D.C., because they were like, 'If we go there, we're going to get charged.'

We saw "Shock and Awe" in action in the DOJ's terrifyingly twisted "conspiracy" case against George Tanios, discussed at length in a previous Revolver report.

READ MORE: Assault Charges Spell Problems for DOJ, FBI in Officer Sicknick Case

RELATED: One Month Later, CNN Finally Admits What Revolver Reported All Along

George Tanios and his companion Julian Khater have been charged with nine criminal counts for actions taken on 1/6 just outside the steps of the U.S. Capitol building. The most serious charge was assault on an officer with a dangerous weapon, arising from Khater's alleged use of Tanios's chemical spray to tag Officer Sicknick and two other officers in the face.

MORE: MAGA Blood Libel: Why Are They Hiding the Medical Report?

There, Tanios: (1) did not go in the Capitol; (2) did not use any bear spray himself; (3) had bear spray in his backpack and when his buddy Khater reached in to take it out, Tanios actively tried to stop him; and (4) in the end, it turns out, as prosecutors now acknowledge, his buddy never even used the bear spray.

And still, the DOJ has slapped this 39-year-old sandwich shop owner, George Tanios, with 60 years worth of stacking "conspiracy" charges because he said, "Hold on, hold on, not yet, not yet."

As we proceed to consider the following unindicted co-conspirators, keep in mind this George Tanios "Shock and Awe" standard of prosecution.

The Unindicted Co-Conspirators

The first suspiciously unindicted co-conspirators we will consider are the "Person Two" and "Person Three" who are unindicted co-conspirators in the indictment against Oath Keeper Thomas Caldwell (and the 15 named co-defendants).

For those unfamiliar, Thomas Caldwell is a 65-year-old from Virginia and an alleged member of the Oath Keepers, which the DOJ refers to as a "paramilitary" or "militia" group. The Caldwell case served as one of the first major indictments following the January 6 incident.

The DOJ press release provides more detail:

> Jessica Marie Watkins, 38, and Donovan Ray Crowl, 50, both of Champaign County, Ohio; and Thomas Caldwell, 65, of Clarke County, Virginia, were indicted today in federal court in the District of Columbia on charges of conspiracy, obstructing an official proceeding, destruction of government property, and unlawful entry on restricted building or grounds, in violation of 18 U.S.C. §§ 371, 1512, 1361, and 1752. Watkins and Crowl were arrested on Jan. 18; Caldwell was arrested on Jan. 19. All three individuals originally were charged by criminal complaint. The maximum penalty for Obstructing an Official Proceeding is a sentence of up to 20 years in prison.
> According to the charging documents, Watkins, Crowl, and Caldwell communicated with each another in advance of the Jan. 6, 2021, incursion on the U.S. Capitol and coordinated their attack. Watkins, Crowl, and Caldwell are all affiliated with the Oath Keepers, while Watkins and Crowl are also members of the Ohio State Regular Militia. Watkins claimed to be a commanding officer within the Ohio State Regular Militia in a social media post. [Department of Justice]

A careful read of the indictment against Caldwell reveals that a certain "Person Two" was a key co-conspirator alongside Caldwell in nearly every dimension relevant to the charges in question.

Person Two planned logistics with Caldwell days in advance of 1/6, stayed in the same hotel room for days together, and when Caldwell allegedly "stormed the barricades" into restricted areas outside the U.S. Capitol, Person Two is alleged to have "stormed the barricades" right beside him.

But five months since the acts both co-conspirators allegedly committed, only Caldwell has been charged. Person Two, for some mysterious reason, remains an unindicted co-conspirator.

For example, the DOJ alleges:

> 48. Meanwhile, CALDWELL, who was positioned on the west side of the Capitol, joined with PERSON TWO and others known and unknown in storming past barricades and climbing stairs up to a balcony on the West side of the Capitol building. [DOJ – Fourth Superseding Indictment]

Person Two is with Caldwell side by side, doing the same actions, going into the same restricted areas of the Capitol, coming out, every step of the way from the beginning of the day until they return to a hotel they share together. But for some strange reason, Person Two, who could not have gotten a plea deal, is not indicted, named, or pursued at all. From the government's brief against reconsideration of detention:

> Did you see us storm the Capitol today? [Person Two] is exhausted and will give you the long version later... I will send you now a sequence of pics as we get bearer, climb through the construction and scaffolding meant to stop us, up the stairway where they were shooting teargas and the grins after we were in as well as the view looking out from the balcony.
> Hell yeah! [Person Two] and I rolled with the Oathkeepers and some other militia.
> ...
> On my side another round of indiscriminate tear gas shots. I gotta say, I was carrying my American flag and I got up on that fountain and I said let's go. Patriots forward! And people were screaming it and we surged forward. I will neve forget the feeling. And [Person Two] I said . . . do you want to go and [Person Two] said something like let's go!
> We got to the level where they do the inauguration and I gotta say it was exhilarating to stand there with thousands, some even hanging from the scaffolding, waving my American flag and [PERSON TWO] waving the flag singing America the beautiful and the Star spangled banner with hundred of thousands of people I didn't know.
> ...
> On my side the cops showed up on a level above us with riot guns and about this time I had left [PERSON TWO] and [name omitted] one of our other pals by the railing about 20 yards back.

And more, from the fourth superseding indictment:

> 52. On December 30, 2020, WATKINS and CALDWELL exchanged the following text messages:

> WATKINS: Looks like we are greenlight to come to DC on the 6th. The Rally Point still at your place?
> CALDWELL: Not that I am aware… Here's the rub: [PERSON TWO] and I will be in a hotel within striking distance of the city starting on the 4th so we won't even BE here.

Even more suspicious than Person 2 described above is Person 3, who is yet another unindicted co-conspirator in the Caldwell indictment.

Note that in the Michigan Plot described in the previous section, both the main van driver and explosives supplier were undercover FBI operatives.

Here, the Oath Keepers' main bus driver and supposed explosives supplier remains an unindicted co-conspirator. That person is simply listed as "Person 3" in the complaints.

Consider the following from paragraph 64 of the Caldwell indictment:

> On January 1, 2021, CALDWELL wrote to CROWL, "Check with Cap. I recom mended the following hotel to her which STILL has rooms (unbelieveble)." CALDWELL then sent a link to the Comfort Inn Ballston, the same hotel that he recom mended to others on January 1. CALDWELL continued, "[PERSON TWO] and I are setting up shop there. [PERSON THREE] has a room and is bringing someone. He will be the quick reaction force. Its going to be cold. We need a place to spend the night before minimum. [PERSON ONE] never contacted me so [PERSON TWO] and I are going our way. I will probably do pre-strike on the 5th though there are things going on that day. Maybe can do some night hunting. Oathkeeper friends from North Carolina are taking commercial buses up early in the morning on the 6 th and back same night. [PERSON THREE] will have the goodies in case things go bad and we need to get heavy." [DOJ – Fourth Superseding Indictment]

In arguing defendant Caldwell should be denied bail, the DOJ cites Caldwell's "leadership role in planning the events of January 6" as including "finding lodging" for Person Three.

They even explicitly refer to Person Three as "a third co-conspirator." Why is this "third co-conspirator" still unindicted?

> Perhaps most significantly, the government has proffered, and the indictment alleges, that Defendant Caldwell played a leadership role in planning the events of January 6, 2021: by (1) finding lodging just outside Washington, D.C. for himself, co-defendant Watkins, co-defendant Crowd, and a third co-conspirator, Person Three, whom Caldwell said would be serving as part of the "quick reaction force" to support the operations on January 6 (ECF No. 18 at 7-9); (2) distributing maps to the quick reaction force to help it find the quickest route to the Capitol, should its services be required (id. At 9); and (3) by discussing whether it would be possible to recruit people with boats to join the plan, so that they could participate in the quick reaction force and ferry "the heavy weapons" across the Potomac River, should that become necessary during the events of January 6 (id. At 9). [DOJ – Caldwell Bond Motion]

In the Michigan Plot, an undercover FBI operative was the recipient of hand-drawn maps from the "plotters" doing reconnaissance missions. Here in 1/6, it is once again the mysteriously unindicted co-conspirator "Person 3" who receives hand-drawn maps:

> 75. On January 4, 2021, CALDWELL emailed PERSON THREE several maps along with the message, "These maps walk you from the hotel into D.C. and east toward the target area on multiple roads running west to east including M street and P street, two of my favorites…" [DOJ – Fourth Superseding Indictment]

Further, in the Michigan Plot, defense counsel alleges it was an undercover FBI operative who actually organized and paid for the hotel rooms during the key planning meeting on June 6, 2020.

Croft's lawyer Joshua Blanchard believes the government set up the meeting of militia members last summer in Ohio that led to the Gov. Whitmer kidnap plot, and that the feds paid for attendees' hotel rooms "The government is the driving force," Blanchard says.
3:50 PM · Jan 13, 2021

Here, our mysteriously unindicted "Person Three" reserved and paid for various Oath Keeper hotel rooms:

> 68. KELLY MEGGS paid for two rooms, each for two people, at the Comfort Inn Ballston from January 5-6, 2021. The rooms were reserved under the name of Person Three.
> 69. Person Three paid for one room at the Comfort Inn Ballston from January 5-6, 2021. [DOJ – Fourth Superseding Indictment]

From the indictment, Person 3 was tasked with stashing the heavy weapons at the "QRF hotel", and standing by as QRF operator in case he was summoned to take the weapons directly to protesters at the scene. [Indictment, paragraphs 83, 84 and 90 and Bond Hearing, pp. 13-14]

This same pattern applies to the booking of most Oath Keeper hotel rooms:

> 82. On January 4, 2021, PERSON TEN checked into the Hilton Garden Inn in Vienna, Virginia. The room was reserved and paid for using a credit card in PERSON ONE's name.
> 95.MINUTA, using his personal email address and his personal home address , reserved three rooms at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C., under the names of MINUTA, JAMES, and PERSON TWENTY. A debit card associated with PERSON FIFTEEN was used to pay > for the room reserved under MINUTA's name. [DOJ Indictment]

Indeed, the curious lack of indictments filed against the entire gamut of Persons referenced as playing leadership roles within the Oath Keepers on 1/6 raises red flags. This includes: Person 2, Person 3, Person 10, Person 14, Person 15, Person 16, Person 19 and Person 20, along with many co-conspirators listed only as "an individual."

For example, while transgender bar owner and Ohio Oath Keeper Jessica Watkins is inside the mezzanine of the U.S. Capitol, she is being directed, encouraged and egged on by "an individual" whose identity the DOJ clearly knows, since the DOJ stipulates the "individual" had "participated in at least one prior Oath Keeper operation:"

> 141. An individual who had participated in at least one prior Oath Keeper operations with WATKINS responded, "Get it Jess. Do your fucking thing. This is what we fucking [unintelligible] up for. Everything we fucking trained for." [DOJ Indictment]

Among such individuals, consider the alleged administrator of the "Stop the Steal J6" Zello channel.

The Zello channel in question was populated by patriot/militia personalities who were variously monitoring and participating in 1/6 activities in real-time. For those unfamiliar, Zello is an app that allows for walkie-talkie functionality on a cell phone. Because phones signals were "jammed" by law enforcement in the Capitol area, Zello's walkie-talkie function was useful (and pre-planned) to stay in communication.

The DOJ alleges:

> 114. At 2:03pm, the administrator of the "Stop the Steal J6" Zello channel directed the group, "You are executing citizen's arrest. Arrest this assembly, we have probable cause for acts of treason, election fraud." [DOJ Indictment]

The DOJ point-blank says this Zello channel administrator "directed the group" as it was carrying out the alleged Capitol attack. If the group is carrying out a conspiracy (and that's what the defendants are charged with), this Zello channel administrator is directing the conspiracy in real-time. Further, applying the George Tanios "shock and awe" standard, it would certainly appear that direct instructions and active encouragement to co-conspirators in real-time to perform "citizens arrests" on the assembly (presumably Congress) is far worse than George Tanios merely saying "Hold on, hold on, not yet," which was the sole hook needed for the DOJ to jail him without bail facing 60 years of charges.

An important reminder for the reader: the point of this exercise is not to encourage the prosecution of this or any other unindicted co-conspirator. The purpose is to suggest the oddity that such co-conspirators have not been indicted, given the absurdly severe "Shock and Awe" standard applied to those who have been. To the extent that this double-standard suggests that the unindicted co-conspirator remains such because he or she has a relationship with the federal government, this is of profound public interest.

We do not mean however to legitimize or condone the "Shock and Awe" standard applied to those indicted, or the wide scope and abusive application of "conspiracy" statutes to target political dissidents.

Under the same (absurd and unjust) standard of prosecution applied to this and every other 1/6 case, this statement, made in real-time over private walkie-talkie to the Oath Keepers inside the Capitol is immediately sufficient to charge this "individual" with conspiracy as well. Is this person being protected? If so, why?

Turning to the Proud Boys side, it appears that the individual who set up the Proud Boys' communications infrastructure is still being protected by the DOJ. The DOJ refers to this person only as "UCC-1" (UCC meaning an explicitly spelled out "unindicted co-conspirator"):

> 47. At 9:09 p.m. UCC-1 broadcast a message to the New MOSD and Boots on the Ground channels that read: Stand by for the shared baofeng channel and shared zello channel, no Color, be decentralized and use good judgment until further orders" UCC-1 also wrote, "Rufio is is in charge, cops are the primary threat, don't get caught by them or BLM, don't get drunk until off the street." UCC-1 then provided a specific radio frequency of 477.985. [DOJ – First Superseding Indictment]

Note that the "baofeng channel" here refers to encrypted two-way Chinese Baefeng radios.

Recall in the very beginning of this report, the Senate hearing exchange (in which Sen. Amy Klobachar asks FBI Director Wray if he wishes the FBI infiltrated the Proud Boys) begins with her exasperation over the Proud Boys having "Chinese radio":

> "And they show up, we now know in this complaint, with encrypted two-way Chinese radios…"

What a dark irony if it turns out that the very radios in question here were supplied to the Proud Boys group by an informant or undercover agent!

UCC-1, as well as two additional unindicted co-conspirators referred to only as "Person-One" and "Person-Two" in the Proud Boys indictment, were all in Proud Boys "upper tier leadership," and appear to have been the most prolific planners and incendiary advocates of "insurrection" in the run-up to and on the day of 1/6.

For example, the DOJ cites statements made almost exclusively by unindicted co-conspirators as statements that "revealed a plan to storm the Capitol and to let the crowd loose." Below is a direct quote from that DOJ motion. Note that only a single statement in this entire exchange, cited as the DOJ's proof of an ongoing conspiracy, is made by a conspirator the DOJ actually indicted (Charles Donahoe). Even then, the indicted conspirator's statements are orders of magnitude less specific, conspiratorial and incendiary than those made by unindicted co-conspirators UCC-1, Person-1 and Person-2:

> Statements made contemporaneous to the event, however, revealed a plan to storm the Capitol and to let the crowd loose, e.g.:
> UCC-1: I want to see thousands of normies burn that city to ash today
> Person-2: Would be epic
> UCC-1: The state is the enemy of the people
> Person-2: We are the people
> UCC-1: Fuck yea
> Person-1: God let it happen . . . I will settle with seeing them smash some pigs to dust
> Person-2: Fuck these commie traitors
> Person-1: It's going to happen. These normiecons have no adrenaline control . . . They are like a pack of wild dogs
> DONOHOE: I'm leaving with a crew of about 15 at 0830 to hoof it to the monument no colors
> Person-2: Fuck it let them loose
> Person-1: I agree . . .
> [May 13 DOJ filing, p. 7]

For this exchange, made on 1/6, in the exclusive, encrypted senior leaders-only chat of the Proud Boys, the DOJ has sufficient grounds to indict UCC-1, Person-1 and Person-2 as co-conspirators.

But the roles of UCC-1, Person-1 and Person-2 look even worse when you understand the structure and hierarchy of the Proud Boys chain of command on 1/6.

First, there were only a very small handful of people in the "upper tier leadership" private Telegram chat of the Proud Boys. When the channel was set up on December, 29, 2020, it was just six people, including Proud Boys national chairman Enrique Tarrio, longtime Proud Boys "thought leader" Joseph Biggs, Proud Boys Auburn chapter head Ethan Nordean, and Proud Boys Philadelphia chapter head Zachary Rehl. That's four named individuals and two-unnamed.

> On December 29, 2020, the Proud Boys Chairman announced the leadership and structure of the Ministry of Self-Defense. The leadership and structure included an "upper tier leadership" of six people, which included Proud Boys Chairman, Nordean, Biggs, and Rehl. Later that evening, Donohoe explained the structure with reference to the upcoming trip to Washington, D.C. Among other things, Donohoe explained that the MOSD was a "special chapter" within the organization. The "special chapter" was not to have any interaction with other Proud Boys attending the event. Other Proud Boys attending the event were to coordinate with their own chapters and "do whatever you guys want." [May 13 DOJ filing, pp. 3-4]

After 1/6, it came to light that Proud Boys national chairman Enrique Tarrio had been a "prolific" FBI informant for years, and Proud Boys "thought leader" Joseph Biggs had been an FBI informant for several months.

The day before 1/6, the Proud Boys national chairman Enrique Tarrio, a known FBI informant, was arrested on weapons charges and ordered by a Judge to stay away from D.C.

> Enrique Tarrio, the leader of the right-wing group the Proud Boys, has been ordered to stay away from Washington, D.C., after he was arrested on vandalism and weapons charges. The ruling comes one day before pro-Trump demonstrations are planned in Washington as Congress convenes to count > the Electoral College votes ahead of President-elect Joe Biden's inauguration on January 20.

> Tarrio was released from custody on Tuesday, but Judge Renee Raymond ordered him to stay away from Washington. Raymond said the government's request for Tarrio to stay away was reasonable given his prior statements about burning anything associated with Black Lives Matter, Raymond also ordered that Tarrio not possess a firearm or ammunition while in Washington.
> Tarrio was arrested Monday after he arrived in Washington on a charge stemming from the destruction of a Black Lives Matter banner at a historically Black church. He was found to be in possession of several high-capacity firearms, stemming in felony charges. [CBS]

A full discussion of Tarrio is outside the scope of this piece. For now, we will simply note how remarkably convenient it is that the head of the Proud Boys, a known FBI informant, just happened to get arrested and banned from D.C. the day before the January 6 protest, in which Proud Boys were involved.

What better excuse for the leader not to be present on that fateful day?

Upon Tarrio's arrest on January 4, the "upper tier leadership" of the MOSD Telegram channel was "nuked" and a channel, "New MOSD" took its place. We now know this top leadership Telegram group included unindicted co-conspirators UCC-1, Person-1 and Person-2 (as well as Proud Boys North Carolina chapter leader Charles Donahoe).

> On January 4, 2021, shortly after Proud Boys Chairman's arrest pursuant to a warrant issued by D.C. Superior Court, DONOHOE expressed concern that encrypted communications that involved Proud Boys Chairman would be compromised when law enforcement examined Proud Boys Chairman's phone. DONOHOE then created a new channel on the encrypted messaging application, entitled "New MOSD," and took steps to destroy or "nuke" the earlier channel. After its creation, the "New MOSD" channel included NORDEAN, BIGGS, REHL, DONOHOE, and a handful of additional members. [DOJ – First Superseding Indictment]

The DOJ cites Person-1 as saying the following:

> Person-1: God let it happen . . . I will settle with seeing them smash some pigs to dust
> Person-1: It's going to happen. These normiecons have no adrenaline control . . . They are like a pack of wild dogs
> Person-2: Fuck it let them loose
> Person-1: I agree . . .
> [Bond Motion]

Furthermore, DOJ cites Person-1 as belonging to Proud Boys' "upper tier leadership":

> A video call was held with prospective members of the MOSD on December 30, 2020. The self-proclaimed leadership of the MOSD introduced the chapter and explained the expectations, including the strict chain of command. As one member ("Person-1") of the upper tier leadership explained…
> [Bond Motion]

This unindicted co-conspirator, Person-1, then explained that all Proud Boys leaders must obey the orders of any person in the senior leadership chat. That means UCC-1, Person-1 and Person-2 had directorial authority over indicted defendants in the group:

> "[Directions] could come from any single person that you see on your screen right now… but the one thing that everyone has to understand, is, yes, you might be getting told things from different > people, but it's all information from the same plan. [Joe]
> Biggs] is not going to tell you something different than I'm gonna tell you. [Proud Boys Chairman] is not going to tell you something different than Zach [Rehl] is going to tell you. It's all one operational plan, so don't get hung up on the delivery. The information is all the same. [Bond Motion]

So if UCC-1, Person-1 and/or Person-2 were undercover informants or agents, note that instruction given by them to other Proud Boys in the chat was to be taken as a direction coming straight "from the top."

> 40. On January 4, 2021, at 7:15 p.m., DONOHOE posted a message on various encrypted messaging channels, including New MOSD, which read, "Hey have been instructed and listen to me real good! There is no planning of any sorts. I need to be put into whatever new thing is created… DONOHOE then wrote, "Stop everything immediately" and then "This comes from the top."

And in fact, these unindicted co-conspirators did appear to override indicted defendants:

> 41. On January 4, 2021, at 8:20 p.m., an unindicted co-conspirator ("UCC-1") posted to New MOSD channel: "We had originally planned on divying them up and getting baofeng channels picked out." [DOJ – First Superseding Indictment]

The next day, UCC-1 did in fact set up and distribute the Baofeng Chinese radio frequency [paragraph 47].
While UCC-1 set up the Chinese radios and walkie-talkie teams, and Person-1 gave operational instructions, Person-2 was repeatedly posting into the senior leadership chat the most inflammatory and inciting comments of anyone in the organization:

> On January 4, prior to his arrival in Washington, D.C., Proud Boys Chairman communicated his expectation that he would be arrested upon entering Washington, D.C. Shortly thereafter, UCC-1 wrote, "We should tell our guys and double down." Another member of MOSD leadership ("Person-2") subsequently wrote, "I say fuck it. Let's set it off[.]" Person-2 then posted "J20" and then "Drag them out by the fucking hair" and then "If they steal it[.]"
> Notably, Person-1 and Person-2 were the same participants in the Telegram message chats on January 6 who expressed their hope that the "normies" would "burn that city to ash" and suggested that those on the ground should "turn them loose." In addition, Person-2 was the individual who posted an alert in the Telegram messages: "Storming the Capitol now" and directed participants to "Get there." [DOJ Motion]

By the severe "Shock and Awe" prosecutorial standard applied to George Tanios, it is difficult to understand how the unindicted co-conspirators described above have not yet been indicted.

As yet another reminder, we are not advocating for the prosecution or indictment of anyone. Rather, we are pointing out the seeming double standard applied to certain indicted persons (George Tanios, for example) and a number of highly suspicious unindicted co-conspirators, with a view toward the strong possibility that the latter categories contain federal informants and undercover operatives.

Conclusion

By way of conclusion, let us return to a curious feature of the Michigan Plot described earlier in this report.

During one of the plot's climactic scenes, in the main van driving up to look at Whitmer's vacation house, three out of the five people in the van — 60 percent of the plot's senior leaders — were undercover agents and operatives:

> 31. FOX, CROFT, a CHS-2, a UCE, and an individual from Wisconsin traveled in the first vehicle. While in the vehicle, CROFT and FOX discussed detonating explosive devices [DOJ Indictment]

The FBI and DOJ went to great lengths to conceal the fact that the fifth man in the van, "an individual from Wisconsin," was actually a deep undercover federal informant.

This "individual" allegedly organized the initial June 6, 2020 meeting in Dublin, Ohio where the entire Michigan Plot was allegedly hatched. He even allegedly paid for the attendees' hotel rooms to travel there.
No wonder that the FBI-DOJ tried to conceal the central role of their mole in setting in motion a conspiracy blamed entirely on patriot/militia groups!

The "individual from Wisconsin," also referenced variously throughout the Michigan Plot courts documents as "an individual", is the longtime government mole Steve Robeson. We know this, because in November 2020, one month after the October 2020 indictment was filed, Steve Robeson blew his cover by spilling on a livestream: "I am the individual from Wisconsin."

> The criminal complaint describes a late-night surveillance run in mid-September from the group's remote training site in Luther to Whitmer's vacation home in northern Michigan. Three vehicles made the trip, including a truck containing five > people: accused ringleader Adam Fox, Croft, an informant, an undercover FBI agent and "an individual from Wisconsin."

> "That's me," Robeson tells members during the online meeting. "I'm the individual from Wisconsin." [Detroit News]

Steve Robeson, 58, had been penetrating right-wing patriot/militia groups as a secret informant for the Federal government for over 35 years.

> Robeson has a history of testifying for the government. In 1985, he testified against a suspect in a murder and arson case involving members of the Ghost Riders motorcycle gang, according to a Wisconsin State Journal article. The article portrays Robeson as a jailhouse snitch who shared a county jail cell with one defendant in the case. [Detroit News]

In a possible preview of what might come for some of the unindicted co-conspirators in 1/6, the FBI-DOJ burned Robeson, their own secret informant, by hitting the man they paid to infiltrate patriot groups with a 10-year charge for owning a gun (as a convicted child molester, he was not allowed to own a gun, which the FBI obviously knew in advance). Perhaps this is the price that Robeson paid for blowing his cover?

There is a fascinating moment in the October 14 preliminary hearing where Detroit FBI Field Office Special Agent Richard Trask brings personal notes to the stand, which he only consults when talking about key events concerning the "individual from Wisconsin". When questioned on cross-examination about the contents of the notes and why they weren't disclosed to defense counsel, Special Agent Trask says his admits his notes were prepped in a joint meeting the night before between the FBI and DOJ. When defense counsel Mr. Graham motions the judge for a copy of the notes, DOJ prosecutor Mr. Kessler rushes in to specify that defense counsel will only get a redacted version of the notes because they relate to unindicted co-conspirators and concealed-identity informants. [Preliminary Hearing Transcript – also see image sequence 1, 2, 3, 4]

Steve Robeson ("an individual") being outed as a deep undercover FBI mole just months ago in the Michigan Plot, among other incidents, calls into question every major unindicted co-conspirator in the 1/6 case docket referred to only as "an individual." Indeed, in the case of Robeson, the FBI and DOJ conspired to use this exact language trick to hide the existence of secret FBI informants from the judge, defense counsel and the public.

In the end, we are left with burning questions that ought to entirely reshape the way the nation thinks and talks about the events of 1/6.

From now on, every politician, commentator, and concerned citizen who cares about 1/6 has a duty to put the pressure on FBI director Christopher Wray to come clean.

In the very beginning of this piece we drew attention to Senator Klobuchar asking Christopher Wray about infiltration, but formulating the question in a way that assumed there was none. Don't you ever kick yourself, she asked the FBI director, for not having infiltrated these groups that planned to do violence on 1/6?

Now, armed with the formidable research in this article, any politician in Senator Klobuchar's shoes ought to kick themselves if they don't ask the following:

Director Wray: How many of the unindicted co-conspirators in January 6 cases are now, or have been, undercover agents or confidential informants?

Indeed, pulling on the thread developed in this ground-breaking report could unravel the full story of what the FBI really knew about 1/6 — a potentially extraordinary scandal.

Stay tuned. We're not done yet.

  Nancy and Chuckie. We all know they have blood on their hands: Ashli's. When will someone be charged for her outright murder?

That's the case that disturbs me the most. Some of the others sit in jail cells too long, being denied bail, but at least they are alive. Ashli is dead. The only murder of that day, and she was a veteran of Iraq and Afghanistan, was wrapped in an American flag, and unarmed. The killer had orders to shoot to kill and did so. With no warning that anyone could hear on the video. Who gave the orders that it was okay to shoot to kill unarmed protestors entering their Capitol house, they paid for with their taxes, and who were ushered in by Capitol police to begin with? Why don't the American people still don't know the killer's name, all these months later? Because he was black and thereby being protected? Because he could give out too much information if probed about who told him it was okay to commit murder that day?

When the clip was first posted it showed Ashley moving the crowd back away from the damaged door and window. To her front at 11:00 o'clock , coming down a narrow stairway were two police officers. Identify them and get statements. Ashley was shot from behind, the bullet striking her on the left side of her neck with blood spray to her front. The two police officers in front of her were close enough to be sprayed with her blood. Luckily that bullet did not hit either officer. YES! it was hate and deliberate murder! I am sure that the clip has now been edited to remove the portion prior to her on her face at the foot of the stairway. Can't have the public arriving at conclusions that vary from and fail to fit the left's narrative.

Wray and Haspel along with the DOJ were able to do all this stuff because Trump put them in those position, don't you ever forget that. Where is he now, certainly not defending any of the people in jail who HE asked to come to HIS rally. Crickets... not a peep. Trump did nothing for us, he is a charlatan and a good percentage of us who voted for him won't be fooled again. While you are complaining about being coerced into taking a deadly gene therapy, DNA altering injection falsely labeled a vaccine, don't forget who spent billions of your tax dollars, giving it to big pharma to develop it. Don't forget who twisted arms at the FDA to get it approved for emergency use. Don't forget who locked this country down over the flu by executive order and destroyed the economy. Don't forget that order allowed state governors to lock their state down and enforce illegal mask mandates for more than thirty days. They could not have done that without Trumps emergency declaration. Not one single deep stater was ever arrested much less tried and sent to jail. He urged states to enact unconstitutional red flag laws. Yet 60-70% of you morons would vote for him again like he is your savior after he stabbed you in the back. Thank God there are enough of us who won't make that mistake again to keep him out of office. There is one way to take this country back now and it's not through voting in fake, illegitimate elections run by the same globalist trash in both parties.

Very interesting stalking point cut and paste, TDS moron, but utterly irrelevant to the excellent detail actually posted. If English is your first language, try reading it. It's a thoughtful expose detailing incredibly aggressive and incredibly partisan anti-Trump behavior by the corrupt and universally (amongst Trump supporters) mistrusted and loathed FBI. The article even makes a plausible case that the FBI were integral to and responsible for possibly concocting and executing the worst activity at the anti-election fraud protest. That they could have stopped this before it eventuated. ...See more

  I agree we need to know about the involvement of undercover deep-staters on Jan 6th. But it's weird the author doesn't address the known, certain involvement of Antifa/BLM instigators that is being buried or ignored by media and DOJ.

This has been talked about since the 60's. Govt led MK Ultra program and these poor people have been behind the mass shootings, serial killers, etc. They are always drugged and on psychiatric care. Russ Dizdar stumbled into this and wrote a book about it. The Black Awakening. These are world wide controlled terrorist cells, very coordinated and planned using these mentally ill, mind controlled people. They say they will rise up together and unleash global terror one day. One BLM/Black Panther group just said this in Oklahoma, that they were going to kill all white people soon. obama's Weather Underground bomber backers trained with Arafat/PLO and are running the BLM/Antifa show, who have also trained in the Middle East.

These are coordinated and planned attacks, leaders with umbrellas, piles of bricks, etc. Many witnessed & filmed them being unloaded from vans at the Capital that day. obama's Valerie Jarrett's family have an FBI file for ties to Iran, the Muslim Brotherhood, Russia, communism. BLM are aligned with the Muslim Brotherhood, Nation of islam. This is what the Arab Spring, Syria, Bengazi were all about, getting rid of Qaddafi for the MB/isis to take over the Middle East and Africa, which they did. The Dems are heavily into Africa and just sent troops to Kenya. They have been behind the White Christian farmer genocide in South Africa that no one has heard of. Same playbook in the West playing out now. Divide and Conquer.

AWESOME WORK BY REVOLVER! I would add in addition to "Feds" infiltrating the proud-boys , oath keepers etc. The deep state also mobilized their BLM and Antifa assets that day. They outfitted them in MAGA gear and they made up most of the foot soldiers who breached the Capitol. A smart person should have seen this coming. The deep state did the same thing in Charlotteville. Unfortunately Trump is not smart and he led his supporters like sheep into this elaborate honey-trap that was set for them. To this day Trump has not come to their defense or mentioned the name Ashley Babbitt. Vladimir Putin has spoken in their defense but not Trump. Disgraceful!

Amen, it is good to see that some of us get it. I know it's hard to admit you were fooled but I would rather admit I was fooled than remain a fool. I think the biggest thing about these fools who choose to remain fools and double down on stupid it this... There is no cavalry coming to save them, no savior on a white horse, no good guy who will make everything right while they sit in the safety of their homes and hope it will all right itself. Our forefathers faced the English tyrants because they were patriots and would have rather died than submit to tyranny. Our grandfathers faced what looked like an unbeatable nazi war machine and put their lives on the line to defend freedom. Nobody did it for them and nobody is going to do it for us. In the end, they will fight or they will die. Most people won't fight until they have nothing left to lose, soon, very soon, they will have nothing left to lose.

To be fair his legal counsel has probably told him not to say anything positive about the men who are sitting in jail still, because they did commit crimes, even if we don't consider those crimes to be worthy of such long jail terms as they have been given. Remember how the left attacked Trump non-stop and twisted his words around about "there were good people on both sides" comments after a previous riot. The left would do it even stronger this time if he dared make any kind of supportive comment about the rioters on January 6th. He would be really stupid to do so, it would play right into the Left's hands.

The FBI was set up to be the personal fiefdom of J. Edgar Hoover. Most of the efforts of the FBI were in documenting "dirt" on politicians (which is no hard to do) and prominent people. For decades the FBI scrupulously avoided going after organized crime as it is very difficult, worse than catching greased pigs in a mud bog.

Democrats have proven they will stop at nothing when it comes to President Trump. The fact is that Trump threatened trillions of dollars in economic change. Politicians make their money off making deals - ie, Hillary selling Uranium 1 to Putin, Biden selling out to China. Trump threatened all of that. Democrats can justify anything, so why would this be different. They had to hide the election fraud, they thought this would help. They're wrong.

So the FBI fielded many agent provocateurs in the Michigan plot and Jan. 6th 'Stop the Steal' groups. I remember eyewitnesses reporting that an escorted group of 4 or 5 buses appeared near the Capitol on Jan. 6th and unloaded groups of suspected described battle clad Antifa-like militants. There certainly must be official CCTV of their journey, movements upon arrival in the Capitol area, and their actions while on the Capitol grounds. Is the FBI responsible for fomenting the violence at the Capitol on Jan.6th?

Another thing to consider for 1/6. On 1/6, after the rally near the White House, there was a rally planned outside the Capitol Building around the area of where the swearing in ceremony would be. So who planned this rally near the Capitol building? Did they get a permit? More importantly, if they were actually planning to have a rally, where was the podium and where was the PA system with tall speaker towers setup and ready for a rally? Look at the pictures of that day, no podium and no speaker towers anywhere near the Capitol Building. So how where they planning on having a rally and having speakers talk to hundreds of thousands of people without a PA system in place and ready to go? Wildroot shutdown their website that day.

If it were not so sad, on so many levels, it would be just another clumsy dark comedy. But it is reality. This is nothing new for the human condition. A reading of Candide is appropriate in times like these. Candide travels the world learning about the vagaries of humanity (they are a constant). The work of Voltaire ended by saying, paraphrasing here, tend your garden. Franklin said it another way. Mind your business. We live in the world we live in. We have choices...at least right now. Work at the local level if you are so inclined. Understand that provocateurs come in many costumes. Try to know who you can trust. Those you cannot trust avoid to the greatest extent possible. Yes, that includes family. We all have Fredo's in our families. Move if you need to do so. ...See more

"Klobuchar instead asks the FBI director if he wishes he had infiltrated the militia organizations allegedly involved in 1/6 — assuming from the outset that there was in fact no infiltration, thereby providing the FBI director an easy way to avoid addressing the question one way or another". Klobuchar is not stupid.. She deliberately framed the question so as to lay the groundwork for the Zombie masses to reach the conclusion Slither Wray and his KGB agents had not infiltrated the Proud Boys. This entire Jan 6 operation was a False Flag Op, just like the supposed kidnapping of the Comrade Governor Gretchen. Fire Fire (in a crowded theatre) the white supremacists are coming. Great work as usual, Darren Beattie is the Tom MacDonald of journalism, one hit after another. For the last fifty or so years it appears federal agents have been the main instigators of violent protests and riots from at least the sixties to the present. I'd like to know who it thats running Wray, this plan to disparage then criminalize the MAGA movement had to come from someone higher up the food chain. I truly believe the planners wanted dozens of dead bodies and the Capitol on fire. Many bizzare orders were apparently given to the Capitol police that day like telling them to stand down from guarding a broken open window and of course waving people in. It's the people who are truly behind this, leftists in government no doubt, who deserve to be in a DC jail under solitary confinement not the people who currently are. Regarding Biggs being a FBI informant, I felt you could have been clearer thatBiggs was giving the feds info on Antifa not the PB's. As far as I'm concerned thats just being a good citizen helping law enforcement get criminal scum off the streets, had he been giving them info on the PB's it would be a diferent story. Thanks for shining some light on the underhanded way theFBI truly operates.

  The FBI knew weeks beforehand there was a pre-planned scheme to attack the Capitol Building on Jan 6. Yet the FBI did NOTHING to try and prevent the attack except to make a few phone calls to people who obviously didn't do anything about it either. The first "rioters" to enter the Capitol were Antifa Black Bloc anarchists and certain Capitol Police also opened doors that were locked from the inside to allow people to enter the Capitol building which makes you wonder if the attack on the Capitol was a plot to destroy Trump's legacy and credibility going forward. Democrats are terrified Trump will run again in 2024 and needless to say they used every conceivable dirty trick in their Saul Alinsky playbook to try and prevent Donald Trump from ever holding public office again. The Russia hoax, the Mueller investigation charade, the Ukraine phone call hoax, two failed impeachments and the only thing the Democrats had left was to steal the 2020 election and then the 'convenient' Capitol riot, led by Antifa anarchists and many Trump supporters put their hats in the ring but obviously they didn't see the Big Picture prior to the attack in what would be the aftermath that followed.

Our ABC agencies knew,along with the corrupt Congress, what was going to occur. They had all of the intel months in advance. They orchestrated Jan 6 to appear as though Trump supporters committed an "insurrection". Trump supporters weren't the ones who orchestrated this.. and no weapons were used by them to make an insurrection. Wray, Pelosi and the other criminals are the key here..to vilify Donald Trump and his supporters. This is a false flag attack where the capitol police unlocked the doors, encouraged any Trump people who found their way to the Capitol building and tragically went inside. These criminals also brought in busloads of BLM and Antifa members dressed as though they were Trump supporters. These people had weapons, bullhorns and created all of the trouble both outside and inside the building. The real video footage of the entire incident is being hidden from the public by these public officials because their lies would be exposed immediately if it were shown. However, patriots all over the country have been showing their videos on alternative media, which has gone viral. We The People already know what occurred here. It cannot stand and neither can these career criminals known as politicians.

The MI plot has stunk since day 1 and 1/6, of you recall had professional flyers circulating. Flyers that any liberty loving person would have instinctively recognized as having communist undertones. “My gut was screaming 1/6 is a setup”. And, all the video evidence since suggests that is indeed the case. From ANTIFA styled infiltrators agitating the crowed to Capitol Police waving the crown on into the the Capitol building, it’s obvious it was yet another Democrat plot. The left has so thoroughly corrupted every layer of the Federal Gov’t., Academia and now the military. The right has lost. We allowed the left to infect our country and the bureaucracy over the course of several decades. The only thing that helps me remain positive is in knowing the financial damage they've created means their reign will not last long. Several state Gov'ts are now awake to what's going on and are beginning to finally push back. Unfortunately, it's too late to save America. That will be left to us and our children.

Bolshevik Garland mentioned Oklahoma City today but that was another case where informants were aware of Timothy McVeigh's plans and at least one tipped off the ATF and FBI about it. McVeigh visited Elohim City, OK, to discuss his plans in which the top person at the compound was a longtime FBI informant. I mention this because the FBI will allow an attack to proceed if it is in their interest. The Oklahoma City was to be used to paint the militia movement as violent so the FBI & ATF could be handed more power from Congress. It didn't work because Congress still cared about civil liberties back then but not today. Even a lot of Republicans are god awful on protection of civil liberties and think 'white supremacists" should have no rights whatsoever.

I was watching the CSPAN coverage of the Republican presentation on voter fraud during the certification. The first time that that had been given a public hearing that would get broad viewership. The coverage switched away from that presentation to the protestors. One of the commentators was confused by the fact that he had been told that the police had been ordered not to engage with the protestors. The reporters best guess was that they were ordered not to engage was an effort to calm the protests. That was the last I saw of the discussion about voter fraud. It was summarily stopped, not to be continued again with everyone intimidated by fear of being branded as sympathetic to the unarmed insurrectionists. Mighty convenient for the Dems, and just perfectly timed to stop the only public discussion of voter fraud that would happen.

People who have enough power to influence the activist left and had notice there would be mayhem on Jan 6. A Time Magazine article states: Much to their surprise, the thousands who answered Trump's call were met by virtually no counter demonstrators. To preserve safety and ensure they couldn't be blamed for any mayhem, the activist left was "strenuously discouraging counter activity,"

  It's what they do. You can bet your life on it, that every time there is a "right wing extremist" faction involved, they will be there infiltrating. I know plenty of good people who have been involved in several different conservative protest events (Bundy Ranch, Malheur Wildlife Refuge, and others) who have done prison time; even still in prison; or in one case been killed by the FBI and OSP. And the weasels always probe for the weak links, the not-so-stable, the ego-vulnerable, and they exploit them, and use them, and embed themselves, and instigate, entrap, and then they spring their damned trap. They are the worst criminals in the room. Always. You don't have to do any convincing on my account that they did so here. Like I said - it's what they do.

Does it follow then, if the FBI orchestrated turning a peaceful protest on Jan 1 about a corrupt Nov 20 election into an unpeaceful protest with the object of disrupting the electoral process going on inside the chamber, where enough votes might have flipped to not elect Biden President, then the FBI was also 'in' on the corrupt electoral process of Nov 20, 2020. The swamp. It reeks. I dont know how you drain it.

So it appears the FBI plans these attacks, shows up, creates scenes with their operatives, attempts to get other attendees to take part (but for the most part fails), the capitol police steps in to help by removing barricades and waving in attendees saying, "You can enter if you don't make a scene," then the FBI jumps out later to say "Gotcha!"

The FBI is basically the military wing of the Dems; TRAITORS. We should defund the FBI and transfer those funds to support local law enforcement (police, Sheriff, Constables, Troopers, Highway Patrol, etc.). We can slowly rebuild a federal unit, but with better oversight and strict rules of engagement. I never thought I would see the day when the USofA would have political prisoners. Just as importantly, we need to root out the bad actors in the DOJ and the cabal of enablers.

  The Left who orchestrated the Coup on our Government also orchestrated the attack on 1/6. This was a setup to criminalize President Trump and his Supporters to continue their treasonous agenda to overthrow America. The Left knows they can't win unless they rid America of it's Patriots. Those that defend the Constitution and our Freedoms. The Left have proven they will stop at nothing to gain complete control of our Country and continue to enslave Americans under their treasonous demands. Even now with open borders and the purge of our Law Enforcement and Military they are hoping they can succeed. I'm sure they have imported enough people coming across our open borders to invade and try to disarm Americans. Until this treasonous Coup is exposed and all those involved in their treasonous takeover Americans need to be alert and cautious for their freedoms. When the President and Democrats criminalize over half of America's population as extremists and White Supremacist we need to be on our guard.

Story Breaking on leftwing YH right now about Ashli Babbitt: "Reps. Liz Cheney, R-Wyo., and Adam Kinzinger, R-Ill., denounced fellow House Republican Rep. Paul Gosar on Tuesday for his suggestion that Ashli Babbitt — who was shot and killed during the Jan. 6 riot — had been "executed" by Capitol Police. "On January 6, as the violent mob advanced on the House chamber, I was standing near @RepGosar and helped him open his gas mask," Cheney tweeted. "The Capitol Police led us to safety. It is disgusting and despicable to see Gosar lie about that day and smear the men and women who defended us." During a House Oversight and Reform Committee hearing Tuesday, Gosar, R-Ariz., asked FBI Director Christopher Wray if he knew who "executed" Babbitt, a supporter of then-President Donald Trump who stormed the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6. After Wray said he did not know the name of the officer, Gosar called Babbitt's shooting death "disturbing." "The Capitol Police officer that did this shooting appeared to be hiding, lying in wait and then gave no warning before killing her," Gosar said, without offering evidence to support the claim. The officer who shot Babbitt has not been named. An investigation by the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia and D.C.'s Metropolitan Police Department concluded earlier this year that the actions of the officer did not warrant prosecution. "You're sick Paul," Kinzinger tweeted. "Truth is, Ashli was manipulated by people like you - " Bla Bla Bla

The wall began to go up on 7 January. It would have taken months of planning, where the fence is going, what roads are blocked, fire department and police approvals and various other permits. Then you would have had to have shipped all the materials to the location and hired crews and organized all the work to be done. This was planned at least months ahead of time, it was not spontaneous because of what happened on 1/6.

First of all, let me stress I am not involved in any group myself. Last year, I was told by people I know who are involved in Patriot and religious groups that they were being approached by federal agents of various agencies but primarily the FBI and to a lesser extent Homeland Secruity. These agents claimed they wanted to work with these groups to go after antifa but it became clear to them that's not what it was really about. It was about them. They were being investigated. All the agents questions were about their group, not antifa. They appealed to these people on patriotic grounds telling them that they understood and appreciate what they stood for. In reality, they wanted them to spy on their own people. The agents asked that they turn over all their materials including messages, member info and video. The people I know got wise to this but I'm sure many others did not.

I believe it goes back much further than that. Way, way back to the Carter/Clinton eras, and then some, where horrific deals were made with foreign devils for profit. Outsourcing, after all, was a Clinton brainstorm; a New World Order came out of a Bushes mouth. It's just a guess but I'm thinking Obama was but groomed for the position of President, a plant whose talk could charm snakes, even as "we the people" were being conditioned to believe we whites, in particular, were racist, and had no means of proving otherwise but by casting our vote for a man of say, color. Our government has played us for fools for a very long time. We the people of all races, colors and creeds, and now more than ever seek to pit us against one another if even so that they need not single us out for prosecution or execution; rather, we alone do the dirty work of destroying one another.

  If true, then they impeached Trump on false charges. Again! And he didn't incite a riot/insurrection, which never did anyway. And if true this will change the political landscape for a long time. The impact of the American people trusting the FBI or any other government agency, e.g., CDC, "The Fauch," etc. could have dangerous implications. This is like the little boy that cried wolf and when a real threat comes along that could have dire consequences for us. But the corruption of Federal agencies is on the Swamp.

Actually if you want to get to the very beginning of our corrupt form of government, go back to 9/11! That revealed what people in absolute power would do for money, power, and hide secrets from the past! All you are seeing from the FBI, is what they have been doing for many years, lie, cheat, and steal from the ignorant American people! I can assure you of this, it will get far worse in the next few years! And when you take time to read history, you will learn this corruption of all three branches of government, has been planed, organized and even instructed by very evil powerful men that many Americans have no clue about! This article gives proof of circumstantial evidence that will never be put to light in any courtroom, because you have men that will do anything for the love of money, the pride of life, and the desire for riches! And they will do anything to ensure this way of life, at what ever it cost, even your life, or even if it causes you to lose your freedom! They do not worship God, they worship another fallen god, that will burn in hell with them!
